

1) Role-play: Nail salon

What you need: cardboard sheet, pen, paint, small brushes/make-up brush/cotton wool buds

What to do: draw around your child's hand, your hand or anyone's in the family on the card board. You could cut them out too. Your child can paint the nails.

Play: You could pretend to go into a nail salon, choosing the colours, draw around your hand and then let your child paint the hand. Ask how much it was and pay at the end. You could make receipts, open/close signs, opening time sign, price list. If you cut the hands out your child can pretend filing or trimming the nails too.
