Maths

We are going to continue to look at shortest and longest. Here is a video to help us to remember what these words mean:

Using your stick from yesterday, could you find 10 objects around your house that are longer than the stick? What did you find? Was it hard to find things? Send me a photograph of all the things that you found.

Literacy

Today we will be continuing to work on our picture of 'The Stickman' written by Julia Donaldson. Yesterday, you drew a picture of your favourite scene from the story. Today we are going to add some writing on the picture. Parents and guardians, can you please encourage your child to use their sound knowledge to write the word 'man' on their paper. If they find that easy you could help them to write 'Stickman' by sounding out the letters. For those children that would like more of a challenge they could write 'I like this bit because'. Please send me a photograph of the completed work.

I like this bit because the family all look so happy.

Phonics

Today we will be looking at a new sound. We will be focusing on the sound 'j'.

Have a look at the lesson below.

New sound: J

P.S.H.E

Thinking about friendships, there are times that we will have to or will need to say sorry. Watch this story called 'Martha doesn't say Sorry'.

https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=Y_71fSy7ftA

Discuss Martha's behavior. What kind of person is Martha? Why do you think she doesn't say sorry? Would you want to be Martha's friend if she acted in this way?

How can Martha make it right? How can you make things better when you have done something wrong? What could you do?

How should you behave with your friends? How can you show people you are sorry?

Can you draw a picture or send me a video of a time when you think you could say sorry to a friend? What did you or could you do to make your friend feel better?
